ORDER

In a letter dated June 23, 2014, and in a letter dated today, counsel for the Republic requests that the court stay certain injunctive relief.

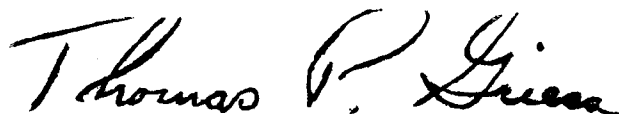

Such a request is not appropriate. The injunctive relief ordered by the court (dealing with the pari passu issue) does not even come into play unless the Republic makes payments to the exchange bondholders. The court has no control over whether or not the Republic makes such payments.

A Special Master has been appointed to assist settlement negotiations. It is the understanding of the court that such negotiations will include the handling of any further payments due to exchange bondholders.

The stay that is requested is denied.

So ordered.
